

DOMINION-WIDE INTEREST IN INDIAN CELEBRATION AT MACLEOD JULY 1-2-3, 1925

WORLD ANXIOUSLY AWAITS
WORD OF AMUNDSEN'S DASH
BY AIR TO THE NORTH POLE

Oslo, Norway, May 26.—A telegram received here today by the Shipping Gazette from Spitzbergen said the explorer, Amundsen, had not returned from his North Pole flight this morning. Weather conditions were less favorable, it was reported.

Although four full days have elapsed since the departure of the Amundsen-Ellsworth airplanes on hazardous attempt to fly to the pole, there is not yet cause for abandoning hope of a successful return, according to expert opinion here today.

No Word on Monday
New York, May 26.—The Northern American Newspaper Alliance announced through the Associated Press at nine o'clock last night that there was no news from the Amundsen-Ellsworth North Pole expedition. More than four days have now elapsed since the two airplanes left King's Bay, Spitzbergen on their pole flight, and nothing has been heard from them.

Storms Forecasted
Oslo, Norway, May 26.—The Shipping Gazette says that Arctic regions are threatened with storms which, it is thought, will compel Captain Amundsen to return immediately if he is able. The weather forecast is for snow and fog on Wednesday.

Awaiting Word
Oslo, May 23.—Authorities here did not expect direct news from the expedition until the party can return to Lars Island where the auxiliary ships are now waiting, or until the explorers can reach some other place on Spitzbergen and get in touch with the radio station at Green Harbor.

Would Drop Flag
Copenhagen, May 23.—The Danish naval captain, Godfred Hansen, companion of Amundsen, and second in command of his 1920 Arctic expedition on the sloop Gjøa, today expressed the opinion that Amundsen would not attempt to land at the North Pole, but would drop the Norwegian flag there from his flying boat.

Captain Hansen said he thinks Amundsen's chances of success depend entirely upon weather conditions and his gasoline supply. He said that undoubtedly the most favorable possible time had been selected for the start of the flight, but even with the best of luck, he believed the expedition would have very little gasoline surplus.

Won't Land at Pole
Should Amundsen be obliged to land near the North Pole, Captain Hansen said he would probably attempt to proceed to Cape Columbia, on Grinnell Land, northwest of Greenland, and in that event would have to remain there for a year, because the crossing from Cape Columbia to Greenland is over an extremely difficult and dangerous portion of the Arctic with much open water. The journey from the North Pole to Cape Columbia is also most difficult, he said.

An actual landing at the pole from the airplane would be most dangerous, Captain Hansen thought, and the re-start would be still more hazardous. Another prominent Danish Arctic explorer, Peter Freuchen, expressed the opinion that Amundsen would descend if he discovered what seemed to be a good landing at the pole. In the event of cloudy weather, Freuchen said he believed Amundsen would decide to remain until the sun came out again, so that he could make scientific observations and accurately fix his location.

MANNA, WINNER OF DERBY

London, May 27.—(By Canadian Press Cable.)—The Derby, blue ribbon of the turf, run at Epsom today over about a mile and a half, was won by H. B. Morris' Manna, by Phalaris-Waffler, ridden by the popular jockey, Steve Donoghue, and starting at the relatively low price of 9 to 1 against.

Manna won in a canter by eight lengths, Aga Khan's Zionist 10 to 1 being second, and A. K. McComber's The Sialar 50 to 1, third. The favorite, Cross Bow, finished in the back and was a great disappointment to the followers of the Astor colors. Twenty-seven ran.

Until a day or two ago Manna ruled almost every favorite with Lord Astor's Cross Bow for the great three-year-old classic, his position having been established by his easy win in the 2,000 Guineas at Newmarket just a month ago, when he made all the running and stayed on to come home a fairly easy winner from St. Bevan, with Oajah third.

The Derby winner was bought as a yearling by his present owner, Mr. Morris, for 6,100 guineas (nearly $30,000) and is trained by F. Darling, at Beckhampton. Manna is entered in the St. Leger, the last of the five classics for three-year-olds, and should be in at Doncaster next September he will have accomplished that rare feat of the "triple crown," namely, the 2,000 Guineas, the Derby, and the Leger.

Manna Took Early Lead
Dalmagray took the lead with Priory Park next, at the start of the race but Manna gained the lead at three furlongs and drawing away, won easily.

Lord Astor's Cross Bow, starting as a favorite, was not among the first six.

It is rather extraordinary that the winner of a two thousand guineas ridden by the famous Steve Donoghue who has won his sixth Derby, should start at such long odds, but Manna was lucky in the 2,000 Guineas, in getting away with a running start, while Zionist, who finished second, was almost left at the post. By spreading the Derby field today Manna establishes himself the best of this year with two possible exceptions, these being the unbeaten Pizarro, who won the Guineas, and the unbeaten Billy, who is expected to win the fourth classic, the Oaks at Epsom on Friday.

Good as Two-Year-Old
As a two-year-old last season, Manna won two of his five races, these being the Richmond Stakes at Goodwood and the Moulton Stakes at the closing Newmarket meeting.

In the Middle Park plate he finished third behind Pizarro and Solario. In addition to the placed horses, the following also ran: Rummaged (the king's horse), Buccellas, Constantine, Cross Bow, Dalmagray, Dignity, Ethnarch, Flying World, My Crackers, Pons Asinorum, Priory Park, Ptolemy II, Roidoride, St. Bevan, St. Napoleon, Solario, Sparus, Sanderland, Tia-phernes, Vicot, Virginian and War Minister.

The official time was 2:40 3-5, the going on the turf being slow due to heavy rains.

Cross Bow was seventh at the finish. The king's Rummaged was eighth and the French horse, Ptolemy II, owned by Capt. J. D. Cohn, which was a favorite, came in tenth. The rain made the track unusually heavy.

MACLEOD BAND STAGED
EXCELLENT SPORTS

Victoria Day in Macleod was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. The weather man was wearing his best sunny smile and ideal weather conditions prevailed.

One of the chief attractions for the day was the big program of sports at the exhibition grounds under the auspices of the Macleod Band. A large crowd of people attended and greatly appreciated the light of events, each and every one of which was keenly contested for. The running races were all close decisions and the number of entries made the contests well worth witnessing.

In the evening a dance was held at the Silver Grill Hall which was largely attended. Interspersed with the dancing program were several novelty attractions, which helped along a jolly evening's amusement. J. Toogood and Darrold Davis were the lucky winners in the ladies hat trimming contest, while "Ding" Hart carried off the prize for the best performance on the mouth organ.

The result of the sports and dance was everything that could be wished for and the coffers of the Macleod Band were materially increased by reason of these events.

The Times regrets that it was unable to induce the sports officials to divulge the names of winners in the various events, but possibly these will be given up for publication next week—better late than never.

The Big Indian Celebration that is being held in Macleod on July 1st, 2nd and 3rd, is causing Dominion-wide interest. Secretary Mike Mountain Horse is daily receiving letters from all over Canada asking for particulars and prize lists of the big event, both from whites and Indians.

Commissioner Hamilton, of Montana, is attending the Celebration and is bringing with him a host of American Indians, also 20 teepees for the Indian Village to be erected in Macleod. This village will be the largest ever erected at any exhibition heretofore and will have the genuine old fashioned medicine teepees with their fall paraphernalia and the signs denoting their position and profession painted on the outside. In the early days the medicine man had more power than the chief, and he could use his influence either for good or bad. His teepee always stood alone in the camp, and was given a wild berth by the Indians, unless they required his services for sickness, or any other purpose. He would furnish the warriors and braves with wonderful potions before going into battle as proof against their getting harmed, and also to assure them of victory against their enemies. As our doctors and professional men today place their signs outside denoting their names and professions, so the medicine men of the Indians had their teepees painted with signs and syllables telling who they were and the wonders they could perform. In every camp or village of any tribe the medicine man would be found, also the great medicine pipe. He is the model Indian village to be seen in Macleod on July 1st, 2nd and 3rd.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE — CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

"EVE'S SECRET" SOLVED!

It's a New Paramount Picture With Betty Compson and Jack Holt—Heating Card of Players

Generally a girl knows the dictates of her heart when she has two suitors. She is quick to favor one or the other. Occasionally, however, she is in a quandary during the greater part of their courtship until some particular incident brings her to realize who is the right man.

The latter situation develops in the new Paramount production "Eve's Secret" due at the Empress on Wednesday and Thursday. Betty Compson, daughter of the village cobbler, attracts Jack Holt, the Duke of Poltava, by her beauty and charm. He sends her to Paris to acquire the culture that will fit her to become his Duchess.

William Collier, Jr., who takes the part of the village tailor's son, is the boyhood friend of the cobbler's daughter. Left a legacy by his uncle, he decided to spend it in one big splurge among the famous Riviera resorts. Posing as a gentleman of fashion he meets and falls in love with Betty, whom he does not recognize in her lovely clothes and surroundings.

Betty is a quagmire of doubt. She is undecided between Collier and the Duke. The latter has a wild, jealous nature. The circumstances result in a duel between the two suitors in which Holt is wounded. Seeing him in pain, Betty's heart goes out to him and her love asserts itself. She makes her choice and Eve's Secret is out.

Miss Compson and Holt are co-starred in "Eve's Secret," which is based on the Broadway stage success, "The Moon-Flower," by Zoe Akins. Clarence Badger directed. Vera Lewis, Lionel Belmore and Mario Carillo complete the cast.

"THROUGH FIRE AND WATER"

Picture That Does Not Shirk Realities

The Thomas Bentley production, "Through Fire and Water," which is being shown at Empress next Friday and Saturday, lives through every up to its reputation. It thrills upon thrill, and excitement upon excitement. The hero has to risk alternately being drowned and roasted alive. The fights are fought with a vigor and often an originality which amuse the spectator, comfortably ensconced in his armchair. The chase by one motorboat of another—carried out on an angry sea, with the waves breaking over the tiny craft—is something to make the blood tingle.

And through all the tense drama runs a pretty love story, in which the chief parts are played by the pretty and graceful Flora Le Breton, the clever swimmer and dancer, who recently won the amateur dancing championship of the world, and Clive Brook, who gave so admirable a performance in "Sonja" and other well-known films. The film is adapted from Victor Bridges' novel, "Green-sea Island."

REPAIRS IN ORDER

A Negro woman of mammoth proportions and infirm constitution was in an automobile accident. She was transported to the hospital, where she soon regained consciousness. The doctor, seeking to comfort her a bit, said to her:

"You will undoubtedly be able to obtain a considerable amount of damages, Mrs. Johnson."

"What Ah want my damages? Ah got enough damages now. What Ah wants is repairs."

WEAK IS RIGHT

"Yes, Oscar, if you go without food for seven days it makes one weak."

the famous Medicine Teepee will be there, and the village will be laid out exactly as the Indian villages were in the old days, giving the public a true and correct idea of a big Indian encampment of the early days.

The Indians of the great North West have determined to make this celebration the biggest event of its kind ever held, and according to enquiries being received daily there is no doubt of its success. One cannot possibly describe in writing the wonderful pageant attractions, as never before has an all-Indian celebration been held, and never before has there been a pageant procession of thousands of Indians, each and every one striving to out do the other in costume and appearance.

It will be a sight that has never been seen before, and in all probability one that will never be seen again, and when seen will never be forgotten. The Indians have determined to produce the finest and biggest pageant, stampede and celebration ever produced in Canada, and what is more they are going to do it.

RAYMOND HATTON IN FUN-NIEST CHARACTERIZATION
IN "THE DEVIL'S CARGO"
NEW PARAMOUNT FILM

"You can't always be a hero and you might as well resign yourself to your fate," says Raymond Hatton heading the supporting cast in the Paramount picture, "The Devil's Cargo," due on Monday and Tuesday at the Empress. "We would all like to be the hero. But if the picture were all cluttered up with heroes it would be a sorry affair."

"Someone must play the role that does not get sympathy from the audience. Someone must even be the villain when the plot of the story demands one."

Hatton specializes at comedy characterizations. He never fails to get a laugh from the audience. His role in "The Devil's Cargo," which Victor Fleming directed, is that of a little "hard boiled" mate of a river boat.

Featured in the cast of the production are Pauline Starke, Wallace Beery, William Collier, Jr., and Claire Adams.

INTRODUCING THE FLAPPER
VAMP OF 19

Pauline Starke does the introducing in the Paramount production of "The Devil's Cargo" which opens next Monday and Tuesday at the Empress.

It is the first time Miss Starke has attempted a role of this kind. She has not become a real dyed-in-the-wool screen vamp, however, for she is the heroine of the picture, a dramatic love story of the old gold days of California.

The flapper vamps of California in the pioneer days differed materially from the flapper vamps of the present time according to this story which is a screen version of Charles Whittaker's "The River Boat."

Wallace Beery, in a heavy role, William Collier, Jr., and Claire Adams are featured with Miss Starke in the leading roles of the production.

"The Devil's Cargo" is a melodramatic love thriller—and it's action from start to finish!

FIELD MARSHAL FRENCH,
HERO OF MONS, SUCCUMBS

Deal, England, May 22.—The Earl of Ypres, better known as Field Marshal French, British world war hero, died here today, aged 73. He underwent a severe operation on March 19 last.

His Career

Field Marshal Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant and Governor-General of Ireland, relinquished command of the British forces in France and Flanders to Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig in December, 1915, after 16 months of warfare with the Germans. Until then he had been termed "the luckiest man in the British army."

Outnumbered by the enemy and short of high explosives needed to halt their advance, he had handled the sorely tried British army in a masterly way in its strategic retreat from Mons. A few weeks later, with nearly 1,000,000 men, he fought the historic battle of Ypres, the winning of which barred the Channel ports from the Germans and saved England from invasion. It was at Ypres that the Germans first resorted to their deadly asphyxiating gas attacks.

"The glorious troops under my command had gone valiantly to their death," Field Marshal French wrote, "when a few more guns and a few more shells would have many times saved their sacrifice. And still no sufficient supplies came." Criticized at home for permitting the Germans almost unimpededly to entrench themselves, the Field Marshal had become engaged in a controversy with his old South African commander Lord Kitchener, then Secretary of State for War.

Lord Northcliffe of the London Times had gone to the British front and, upon his return, bluntly told the facts of the shell shortage. Kitchener, for almost 10 months head of the British War Office with a free hand and absolute control, was shown to be bearing a burden too much for any one man. Parliament passed a bill creating the Ministry of Munitions, and David Lloyd George, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, took the new post in the incoming coalition government.

It was Lloyd George's eloquence that awakened the shop workers of Great Britain to a realization of their country's peril, resulted in a tremendous output of shells and other war implements, and ultimately secured the Welsh statesman premier, Lord Kitchener, his burdens lightened but still Secretary of State for War, started on a diplomatic and military mission to Russia. He perished at sea when the warship, conveying him struck a mine and sank with all hands aboard.

French's "Luck"

To revert to French's "luck." He was 41 years old and a half-pay colonel on the retired list, in 1893. He had been shelved to give younger officers a chance. In 1894 the British military authorities decided to revise their cavalry drill book. Sir George Luck, then Inspector of Cavalry, under whom French had served in India, chose him to write the new regulations. It was a success. French was made Assistant Adjutant-General of Cavalry and thereupon headed direct for the command of the "first hundred thousand" British soldiers who met the first terrific German onslaughts. Meanwhile he had won distinction as a cavalry leader in the Boer War for which he was knighted and given a Lieutenant-General's rank.

Two years before the outbreak of the World War he was chief of the British Imperial staff.

Trouble in Ulster

In March, 1914, there had been trouble in Ulster over the organization of Sir Edward Carson's "volunteer army" opposed to Home Rule. Troops at the Carrage camp had been ordered to Belfast and a number of officers had resigned. General Paget, in command, urged the government that Ulster should not be sent there. Lord French had signed a memorandum agreeing to Paget's request and the government capitulated the document as permitting "optional obedience," whereupon numerous British army officers, including Colonel Seely, then Secretary of War, and General French, resigned as chief of staff. Premier Asquith assumed the added duties of the War Department. The Irish political situation, however, underwent a change and many of the officers, including General French, withdrew their resignations.

Upon his retirement as commander-in-chief of the British forces in France and Flanders, Field Marshal French was created a Viscount and designated as Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United Kingdom. He served in this capacity until May 11, 1918, when he was made Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, much to the surprise of the Irish Nationalists, who expressed the belief that Lord French's administration would be characterized by repressive measures. On December 19, 1919, when the Lieutenant General was motoring in Ireland, an attempt was made to assassinate him. His party was ambushed and fired upon but he escaped injury.

Field Marshal French was a great student of Napoleon, the soldier, and believed him the greatest strategist the world ever knew. In following out Napoleon's campaigns in detail he personally covered and studied much of the very ground in Belgium over which, years later, he was to combat as formidable a foe as the Little Corporal faced at Waterloo. His favorite authors were Dickens and Thackeray, and his favorite books "Bleak House" and "The Book of Snobs."

He was of Irish descent, born in 1852, and the son of a British navy captain. For four years the future head of the British army was a

PROMINENT SPEAKER COMING TO AID POOL ORGANIZATION

Word has been received by the Joint Organization Committee of the dairy, livestock and poultry pools that W. J. Park, president and managing director of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, will come to Alberta for one week to assist the pools in their drive for membership which starts June 8th.

It is expected that Mr. Park will be here for the first week of the drive. He will address meetings at several places in the province. Mr. Park has had much to do with the success in co-operative marketing of dairy products by the Fraser Valley Association. The farmers in this pool have been getting from three to four cents more for their butterfat than the Alberta farmers, and generally speaking have been able to get about 20 per cent of the price the consumer paid for their product, as compared with about 50 per cent, which the Alberta producers get. Mr. Park will be able to give some very interesting information about co-operative marketing to the Alberta farmers.

Boards of Trade Give Endorsement

Endorsement of the pools has been given by a dozen or more of the boards of trade throughout the province, and the Edmonton Board of Trade has named June 5th, as a day for a special meeting at which speakers for each of the three pools will be present.

Support for the pools in their membership drive is coming from many quarters in the province, and the outlook for obtaining the objective during the drive is very encouraging.

Plans For The Drive

Directors of the three pools will meet in Edmonton Wednesday next to complete plans for the membership drive. Each of the seven divisions of the province represented by a director in each pool, will be divided into districts, and a director placed in charge of each district, which will be thoroughly organized, with captains in charge of the canvassers of which there are now about 400 appointed for the province. The director in charge of each district will cover the territory a week before the drive starts, appointing captains and arranging for the halls for meetings. More than 300 of the 500 meetings to be held have already been arranged for, and the advertising of these meetings will commence shortly. Auto stickers are also being provided to advertise the dates of the drive. The Joint Organization Committee is now making its headquarters in Edmonton until the completion of the drive on June 28th.

Wheat Pool Contracts

Canvassers for the three pools will also carry with them contract forms for the Wheat Pool which has been in operation now for two seasons. It is possible that many farmers who have not already signed up with the Wheat Pool may wish to do so, and this will give them the opportunity.

Encourages Co-Operative Marketing

There is one very large corporation in the United States that believes in actively encouraging co-operative marketing among the farmers. This is the Sears-Roebuck Co., which conducts an agricultural foundation for the benefit of the farming communities. In a letter to Mrs. F. E. Wyman of the Alberta Poultry Pool, Mrs. Mary Puncke, formerly a prominent member of the U.F.A., and now an official of the Sears-Roebuck agricultural foundation, tells of what that corporation is doing to encourage the farmers to go in for co-operative marketing. Mrs. Puncke states that in its infancy, and the foundation for which she works is earnestly endeavoring to encourage all farm organization and improve economic conditions among the farmers.

ROYAL BANK TAKES OVER
UNION BANK

Ottawa, May 23.—James A. Robb, acting minister of finance, announced last night that he had given his consent to the purchase of the Union Bank of Canada by the Royal Bank of Canada. Before the agreement can finally be approved by the governor-in-council, it requires ratification by the shareholders of both banks, as provided by the Bank Act. Shareholders of the Union Bank are to receive one share of Royal Bank stock for each two shares of Union Bank stock.

Mr. Robb stated that, in asking his consent to the agreement of sale, the directors of the Union Bank had represented that, in view of substantially-reduced earnings with no prospect of early improvement, and the difficulty, despite most rigid economies, of curtailing proportionately the cost of operation, they were faced with the necessity of making a drastic cut in the annual dividend which would result in a substantial drop in the value of the bank's shares, and further might adversely affect the general standing of the bank. To obviate the possibility of such a serious situation, and in order to protect the shareholders and the public, as well as the interest of general financial stability, the directors of the Union Bank, after exhaustive consideration, deemed it their wisest course to obtain the consent of the acting minister of finance to a sale to the Royal Bank.

With the consummation of this latest bank merger, the chartered banks in Canada is reduced to eleven. The Royal Bank, he said, made the overtures.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS OF DIPLOMACY

Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore is founding a School of International Relations named in honor of that great American, Walter Hines Page.

The project is more than an interesting experiment. It is a direct move to link up the fine idealism of America with the affairs of the world. Diplomacy has been a haphazard thing. True, certain traditions have existed in Europe. But these traditions have been mere matters of form rather than any real basic knowledge of international relationships.

In short, the world has been conducting its most delicate business with less systematized education than is given the average first-grade school teacher. There has been an industry of foreign relations, but no art. It has been a trade, rather than a science. The new school will correct all that. It will endeavor to substitute in fact and fact for misinformation and prejudice.

America has great wealth. Her economic position makes her a vital force in world affairs. Her ideals of world peace and vision of neighborly relations between nation and nation give her a chance for wonderful world service. Add to those qualities a high-class diplomatic technique, based on research and facts, and American can become the most beneficent force this earth has ever seen.

MR. DARROW, EVOLUTIONIST

Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer who makes a specialty of saving young murderers from the gallows is going to get after William Jennings Bryan for arguing against evolution.

The two will clash in the trial of J. T. Scopes, Tennessee school teacher, who is to be tried for teaching the theory of evolution in a Tennessee school, against the recent law.

The history of human thought is this: First, a first-rate mind thinks out a new idea for the human race. Then for the next hundred years, the second-rate minds keep themselves busy fighting about it. What the world really needs is more constructive thinking and less argument, more mental building up and less unnecessary defending.

If evolution is a fact, neither William Jennings Bryan nor all the legislators of Tennessee can alter it.

COST OF CARELESSNESS

Reckless motorists are a heavy expense to the taxpayer. Every time one drives his car into an electric light pole in Detroit it costs the city $67 to repair the damage.

In 1924 motorists ran into and damaged 155 light poles in Detroit. It cost the city more than $10,000 to repair them.

But this is trifling compared to the greater waste in human life. How many hundreds in Detroit were killed last year in traffic? How many more maimed? And who can place an estimate on the value of even one of these wasted lives?

GLUTTONY

North Americans literally eat up their income. Ten years ago one-fifth of one's earnings was deemed sufficient for food. Today the figure has risen to 27 per cent—more than one-fourth.

Last year, says Dr. Paul H. Nyström, head of the Retail Research Association, the total estimated income on this continent was 68 billion dollars. Almost half went to retail stores. More than 18 billions went for food, tobacco and soft drinks.

AN INTERESTING PUBLICATION

The progress made by Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta during the past twenty years in the way of natural resource development is outlined in an interesting manner in a recent publication, "Natural Resources of the Prairie Provinces," issued under the direction of the Honourable Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior. The data include outstanding facts with regard to forest, mineral, water power, fishery and fur resources—presented in concise form, by means of a number of maps and diagrams. The chapter devoted to fur and game resources contains particulars regarding the open and closed seasons, while a synopsis of the Dominion lands, grazing, irrigation, water power, mining and timber, both regulations has been included for the convenience of those interested in such matters.

The publication will be found useful by the intending settler, the investor, prospector, hunter—in fact anyone interested in Western Canada's past development and present opportunities. A copy may be obtained free of charge by adults, upon application to the Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa.

An experienced husband is one who reaches resignedly for his purse when his wife tells him he is an old dear.

If you think your small son has a very poor memory, promise to take him to the circus when it comes.

Most of the good conservationists would be ruined, however, if it wasn't for the pronoun "I."

It might be worse. Reform measures come and go, but padlocks are improved by year.

The best cure for a party that is radical seems to be a little dose of responsibility.

The Village Lights
The little twinkling village lights
they hem me round like bars,
All night I lie and know them
there like wardens to my feet,
And ever till the dawn-light comes to dim their quiet stars
I hear the winds of all the world that walk the sleeping street.
—Martha Haskell Clark, in The Home Road.

The Humble Nutmeg
A nutmeg is a little thing, and few housewives think of it as anything but a dash of spice for some toothsome dish—custard, or doughnuts. But I read a most astonishing encomium on the Nutmeg the other day in an old cook-book, over two centuries old the press. After telling of its "Astringent and Stomachick" qualities, and all the many things it was supposed to cure
from "Wind" and "Strong Breath" to faintings and palpitations of the heart is says: "Candied Nutmeg, or as they come over with their green husks about them, are good in all cold Diseases of the Head, as Palsie, and other Diseases of the Nerves,
and are very Cordial; and notwithstanding all these Virtues in this one small Simple, yet if it be taken immoderately, that is, in too great quantity, it proves very hurtful, occasioning Sleepy Diseases, seeing they are very Narcotick, inasmuch that Tavernier relates that when these Nuts ripen in the Molucca Islands, where they chiefly grow, the Birds of Paradise come flocking to feed on them; which they have no sooner done to any purpose, but a Giddiness seizes them they fall on the Ground in a profound Sleep, or Doziness, and lie so long before they recover, that swarms of huge ants
that frequent those spicy Woods, frequently eat off their Legs, or intolerably sting, and kill them in earnest."

Some New Style Wrinkles
Among the new style wrinkles are the Zion laces that look as though spun on fairy looms, so delicate and filmy are they, yet so firm. They come in two-tone flourishes, too, in apple green, American beauty, orchid, Chinese yellow, Chinese blue and all the wood shades from champagne to "tete de negre" (tigger heads). They are made especially for one of the big Chicago department stores.

It is wonderful what modern carpet looms can do in manufacturing, at a comparatively low cost, the designs and delicate color combinations in fine weaves that imitate closely the expensive imported hand-woven rugs that style in home furnishings now seems to make necessary.

The newest notion in hand-bag purses is the "Deauville", which looks exactly like the string-shirred tobacco pouch, only lined with white kid, and made of red, green, tan, purple or powder-blue leather, with a pocket and change purse.

One of the very becoming dress accessories is the diaphanous scarf with fringed ends, shaded from edge to edge from a deep color down to a pale tint.

Beside the fireplace should stand one of the bright-colored painted baskets, with handles, filled with birch logs with the bark on, or driftwood that gives off lovely colored flames when burned.

I never travel any distance without the belt to go under my clothing which has a suede leather pocket hanging from it, with strong fasteners, to hold money, passport, or any jewelry I have with me. It is the safest place to wear valuables, night or day. These may be bought in gray suede leather, or tan linen.

For the lawn, or porch, it is nice to have one or two of the folding chairs, painted red, black or green, and covered with tapestry. They are light to carry about, from one shady spot to another.

ILLUSTRATED RED CROSS LECTURE

The "Story in Pictures" an illustrated Red Cross lecture has been prepared by the Alberta Division Red Cross with accompanying lantern slides for the information of the public and all who are interested in the workings of the Peace-time Red Cross in Alberta. This most interesting and entertaining lecture covers a wide ground, but the special feature is the story of life in the Children's Hospital Calgary. Here under the care of the Junior Red Cross the crippled and sick children of this province are treated, and in most cases are cured of their physical defects. The story is told in the lecture is intensely human, and has a great appeal to all who love little children and desire their best welfare. Indeed the work of the Junior Red Cross as a whole is a beautiful record of loving service by children who are blessed with health and strength, on behalf of those who have neither. Its phenomenal success in the schools of our province, where there are 800 branches with a membership of 15000 children, speaks volumes for the Red Cross Society. Day by day the increasing value of the good citizenship which it instills into the young minds, and the hygienic habits of living which are part of the membership pledge, is evident in many communities. Where Red Cross Juniors are found, there one may be sure of healthy clean-bodies, for these young folks are in honor bound to live up to a high standard of personal hygiene, as expressed in the Health Game Record, a system of self discipline on health lines which is productive of the greatest practical good.

The Chief expression of the Junior's activities is the maintenance of the beautiful Hospital in Calgary, more a home than an institution as the pictures show. Here any sick or crippled child, whose case has been investigated as worthy of Red Cross assistance, is admitted, and in a bright cheerful atmosphere, with educational facilities in the hospital school conducted for the patients who are able to receive instruction, the little ones are nursed back to health and strength. The lecture shows a "Before and After"
series of photographs, i.e. the child on entrance with all its defects, and the child as it returns home with straightened limbs, with new surgical boots or other appliances, a happy useful healthy and educated citizen. You are cordially invited to obtain this lecture from the Alberta Division Red Cross Calgary for exhibition in your community.

Sent free on request to any address in the province.

NEW BALL DIAMOND FOR LOCAL FANS

The baseball fans in Macleod will be able to see real ball playing on a first class diamond this year. The new baseball committee have been working hard and have laid out a new diamond on the site of the old Athletic Grounds immediately south of the Macleod Hospital. The new diamond and grounds will be one of the best ever played on in Macleod, and fans can be assured of seeing real good ball played, as some excellent material in the way of players are on the register. On Monday last a bunch of the boys under the leadership of "Bill" Long and A. C. Macdonald worked on the new diamond with scraper and other tools and fixed the grounds up in first class shape.

On Friday, June 5th, the baseball club are giving a dance at the Silver Grill Hall, the proceeds of which will be to help cover the cost of fixing the new baseball grounds up for the comfort of spectators.

This dance should be well patronized as the cause is a worthy one tending to good clean sport for the town and district.

The opening game of the season will be played on the new grounds on this date, in the afternoon, and the Committee asks that golf clubs and tennis racquets be laid aside on this occasion and everyone help boost amateur baseball along in Macleod.

ARDENVILLE NEWS

Ardenville, May 23, 1925.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Askew and Mrs. Askew were the guests of Mrs.
Barr last week.

Mrs. J. Driver and daughter have arrived home. Both are looking very well.

Mr. Coffell was a visitor to Blair-more this week.

Mr. Brenner inspected the Ardenville School last week.

On Sunday the men of Ardenville and surrounding districts met for their first game of baseball. There was quite a number of players and it is hoped that a good team will be organized.

The U.F.A. of Ardenville are giving a picnic at the Koo enay Bridge on June 3rd. As this is to help buy a piano for the school it is to be hoped that a large crowd will attend. Come and bring all the children and don't forget all your picnic baskets of lunch.

Seeding is pretty well over here just oats being left to seed. A great deal of the wheat is up now and looking fine. The rain certainly made people smile.

SERIOUS EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN

London, May 23.—Dispatches from Tokio to the Evening News said it is reported the town of Kinosaki was destroyed by the earthquake. It was reported a railroad train had been buried in the collapse of a tunnel near Ashiya. The Ikuno silver mine was reported greatly damaged by collapsing tunnels. The Evening News dispatch said 50 persons were reported dead in Junyima and Fukuchi, small towns near Toyo-Oka.

Osaka, May 23.—Two hundred houses were reported collapsed and numerous fires were raging today in the vicinity of Toyo-Oka, a town of 7,700 population, 80 miles southwest of Osaka, as the result of an earthquake which sent terrified residents into the streets fearing a repetition of the Tokio disaster of 1923.

The earthquake, according to meteorological reports, was a horizontal vibration of nearly three inches, which is a record for the past thirty years. The tremor was continuous and lasted several minutes.

Reports received here by the Japanese newspapers report the post office has collapsed and the railway station burning. Military airplanes have been dispatched to the area affected to investigate the extent of the damage.

No detailed reports have been received here as to the casualties but it is believed there were comparatively few as Tajami province, in which the tremor was centred,
is a thinly-populated area.

War never again will be a gentleman's game until bonding companies underwrite the reparations.

Times change. In the old days promoters looked for fighters instead of drawing-cards.

Old Job had a hard time, but there is nothing in the report to indicate that he had hay fever.

No old-time party leader can forgive the impudent Toot for having opinions of its own.

He isn't a true conservative unless he saves his small change and dreads
a great change.

Astonishment is the emotion experienced by your relatives when

On Sunday night or Monday morning early the store of W. Whitworth was entered and cash and goods to the value of one hundred and fifty dollars was stolen. The thieves entered by removing a pane of glass from the back of the store and helped themselves freely to ice cream, pipes, tobacco and cigarettes, also they rifled the cash register and took away nearly fifty dollars in cash and a valuable wrist watch.

The Sisters of Providence, of the Lacombe Home, desire to extend their thanks to the citizens of Macleod for the kind attention and generous contributions bestowed upon them during their sojourn in the town. The institution for which the Sisters so earnestly solicit assistance was founded many years ago by Rev. Father Lacombe, one of the pioneer Missionaries of Western Canada. The Lacombe Home admits all orphans irrespective of nationality or creed, who have no means of support.

RAN IT OUT OF TOWN

A man reached the station platform just as the 5.15 was pulling out. A little burst of speed netted him fifty feet in overcoming the train's handicap, but the best he could do thereafter was to run a losing race. He quit at the end of the long platform and returned. "Miss your train, sir?" enquired the porter cheerfully. "No, my friend," he replied, "Oh, no! I was just chasing it out of the yard. You oughtn't to allow it around here. Don't you see the tracks it has left?"

NOT FIT FOR PUBLICATION

Once in an English class the teacher assigned a composition to be written and it had to contain 250 words. The next morning one little boy was asked to read his. This is what he had written: "My uncle was driving his new car one day and he had a puncture. . . . The other 236 words are not fit for publication."

REACH & COMPANY, Ltd.

GENERAL MERCHANTS, GROCERIES, FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

Many people do not have much luck with seeds—a good deal of the trouble is that the seedsmen are not honest. They palm off old stocks. Mr. Reach a short time ago took two packets of Nasturtium seeds and opened them up. The result was there was not a half-dozen seeds that you would take a gambler's chance of them ever germinating. It seems a dirty shame that the poor woman who buys them, hoping to have a little patch of color around the house, after waiting a reasonable time gives them up for lost. It is a mean species of extortion and graft.

Bedding Plants, Flowers and Vegetables is the only solution. You take no chance with them. You buy them all ready to bloom—you have none of the "It makes your heart sick with waiting."

We shall dress our window this week with Women's White Wear in Canvas Footwear. We sold all our camisoles last week, and will put in Ladies' Corset Covers with various other lines.
